

Scenic Eclipse Continues its Build to Completion and June Sea Trials

Boston & Vancouver, May 2019 – In response to a commercial court ruling in Pazin, Croatia, placing Uljanik Shipyard into bankruptcy this week, with expectations of the same next week for the holding company, Uljanik Group, Scenic has negotiated an agreement with the court-appointed bankruptcy trustee to ensure the work on Scenic Eclipse continues uninterrupted until her completion and delivery. The ship will then head to Reykjavik, Iceland for its inaugural cruise on August 15.

This bankruptcy development comes after a breakdown in negotiations between the recently chosen strategic partner, Brodosplit Shipyard and the Croatian Government. The strategic partner is a consortium comprised of the Croatian DIV group and Italian Shipyard Fincantieri.

“The Scenic Eclipse continues to remain on schedule for its first sea trial in early June after its completion of the dry dock work last week,” states a Scenic company spokesperson. “We are saddened by the loss of jobs at the shipyard as we have developed a wonderful relationship with many of the hard-working men and women there and hope that a court-determined resolution is found in the near future.”

Scenic Eclipse sets a whole new benchmark in design, innovation and luxury. With its commitment to world-class safety, tourism sustainability, innovation in design and quality appointments throughout, offering guests the experience of discovering the world in all-inclusive luxury remains Scenic’s primary focus.

Contacts:

Australia, New Zealand and South East Asia

Mandy Dwyer

Manager PR, Communications and Editorial

Mandy.dwyer@scenic.com.au

M: 0417 133 374

USA and Canada

Elliot Gillies

Elliot@gilliesandzaiser.com

B:

212.724.7783 x1

UK

Zoe Cartell

Zoe.Cartell@scenic.co.uk

M: 07921 168402